| Study program: GEOGRAPHY |  |  |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Type and level of studies: Bachelor studies |  |  |  |  |  |
| Course name: ENGLISH LANGUAGE 1 |  |  |  |  |  |
| Lecturer: Snežana Zečević |  |  |  |  |  |
| Status: Elective subject |  |  |  |  |  |
| ECTS: 6 |  |  |  |  |  |
| Attendance prerequisites: |  |  |  |  |  |
| Course aims  This course aims to familiarise students with the language of science needed within their profession. |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Course outcome Acquiring the skills of active use of the ESL. Developing language economy skills. |  |  |  |  |  |
| Course content  Theoretical part  General:  -rapid review of English grammar  -talking tech  -the science view  -biology - the study of living organisms  -differences between plants and animals  -the need of energy  -photosynthesis  -food webs  -species  -reproduction  -adaptations  -natural disasters  -ecology  -relations of animals  -vertical world |  |  |  |  |  |
| Literature  Васић, М.(1995): An English Reader for the students of natural sciences |  |  |  |  |  |
| Number of active classes |  |  |  |  | Other classes |
| Lectures:  1 | Exercise   $\mathrm{s}:$   1  | Other for | rms of teaching: | Students' research work |  |
| Teaching methods  Lectures, testing, term paper(s) |  |  |  |  |  |
| Assessment (maximum 100 points) |  |  |  |  |  |
| Course ass | ments |  | Points | Final exam | Points |
| activities d | g lectures |  | 10 | written exam | 30 |
| practical c |  |  |  | oral exam | 30 |
| term test(s) |  |  | 30 | tests |  |
| term paper |  |  |  |  |  |

